Give your lawn a winter break

Your lawn works hard all year, so give it an easy winter. 🍂 Rake up any leftover leaves so they don't mat down on the grass. Try to keep foot traffic off frosty or soggy turf, and move toys, furniture and decorations off the lawn so they don't leave dead spots. It's also a good time to walk the yard and note anything you'd like to change in spring. Want help with a winter clean-up? Call [YOUR COMPANY] at [PHONE].

Decorating trees & shrubs this year?

Lighting up the yard for the holidays? 🎄 A few habits keep your trees and shrubs happy. Use lights rated for outdoor use, and wrap them loosely so branches aren't squeezed. Keep cords off walkways so nobody trips, and plan to take everything down before plants start growing again in spring. Skip anything that involves ladders near power lines; leave tall trees to a pro. Questions about your landscape? Call [YOUR COMPANY] at [PHONE].

POST 3 · LAWN CARE & LANDSCAPING · EDUCATIONAL

Should I water my lawn in winter?

We hear this one a lot this time of year! 💧 Grass grows much more slowly in cool weather, so most lawns need far less water in winter than in summer. How much yours needs depends on your grass type, your weather and your soil. Watering too much in winter can waste water and leave the lawn soggy. Not sure what's right for your yard? Ask [YOUR COMPANY] at [PHONE] and we'll help you set a smart schedule.

POST 4 · LAWN CARE & LANDSCAPING · MYTH-BUSTER

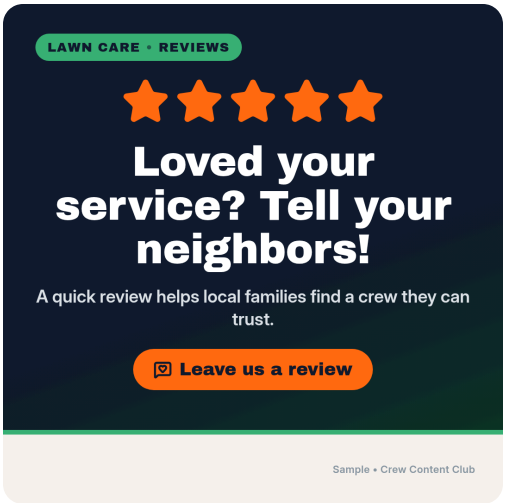

Leave the leaves all winter?

Myth: a thick layer of leaves on the lawn is fine all winter. 🍁 Fact: a heavy, wet layer can mat down, block light and smother the grass underneath. That doesn't mean every leaf has to go! Rake, mulch or bag the leaves on your lawn, and use some as mulch in garden beds instead. Don't have time for it? [YOUR COMPANY] can handle the clean-up for you. Call [PHONE].
